(What does it do) [duplicate]. Ask Question. Asked 8 years, 11 months ago. Now, my pages work fine in every browser without the doctype (except IE). Does IE need a doctype (is this an IE only thing) and do other browsers just assume it OR or is it doing something I'm not seeing. What are its functions and how does it work? html doctype. share|improve this question|. What does it do? - this is correct. When you frame a question with "wh" question, you should remember that the "wh" word has to be followed by suitable helping verb followed by the sub which in turn is followed by the main verb and object. Look at the sentence given in question: What(wh word) does (helping verb) it (sub) do(main verb)? Why is she crying? etc. 3.4k views · View 3 Upvoters. View more. Related Questions. Is it correct to say "What is certain isâ€¦"? "Who do you like better?" Or "who do you like more?" Which one is correct and why? What is the differenc When Doofenshmirtz's latest invention lands in the front yard of the Flynn-Fletcher household, Phineas, Ferb, Candace and Linda try to find out what it does. When Lawrence won't believe Linda about the invention, Candace decides to use him in a way to show Linda Phineas and Ferb's reverse-engineered creation. Lawrence is outside putting up a bird feeder and house on a tree. He presses a button and the house opens. He decides that it doesn't do what he wanted it to do but leaves it.

What does the European Commission do? Its job is to develop laws for member states and enforce them. Based in Brussels, it's the only EU body that can draft laws. It employs more than 32,000 staff in total and its running costs this year are €3.6bn. Once its proposals have the approval of the European Parliament and a council of 28 ministers from the EU states, they can become law. The laws it proposes cover many areas. Clean air. The General Data Protection Regulation has seen companies compelled to do more to protect data. There are punishments for those who fail - British Airways, for example, is facing a record fine over a website security breach. Internet giants. Curbing the power of internet giants has also been a focus for the European Commission.
